

Top Challenges Facing Firms Performing PCR Services

Ensuring compliance of your prep, comp and review services can often be time-intensive, especially when you consider the added stress of peer review. Standards such as SSARS21 often push firms to overwork the process in order to ensure a positive peer review—which ultimately results in lower realization rates and limited time for higher-value advisory services.

Find out how OnPoint PCR can reduce your workload while helping your firm feel more confidence and peace of mind around compliance!
